

Dr Azza Hammou, Tunis

Graduated from Tunis Medical School in Tunisia in 1975, and had further training by fellowship in France and Belgium in CT, Pediatric radiology, MRI and interventional radiology from 0981 to 1986
Head of Tunisian National Radiation Protection Centre - since June 2004
Head of Radiological Department in Children Hospital -Tunis 1995-2004
Member of Administrative comity of Tunisian Nuclear Technical and Scientific Centre since June 2004
Professor in Radiology Medical school of Tunis since 1996
Member of Radiological College Teachers of Tunis since 1995
Member of Technical comity of Equipment Department of ministry of Health since 1995
I conducted many training and cooperation programs, scientific courses, hand-on workshops and medical congresses, in Tunisia Maghrebian, Middle East and other African countries. Invited lecturer to local and international medical congresses. Participated in numerous researches, papers book chapters. Founding member of many radiological associations in Tunisia and member of: Tunisian and French societies of radiology, pediatric and oncology Mediterranean an African Society of Ultrasound (MASU) Councilor member, and past president. National coordinator of IAEA cooperation programs related to radiation protection. Depute president and member of the steering group of FNRBA (Forum of Nuclear Regulatory Bodies in Africa.